

LITIGATION SUPPORT SERVICES

Good accountants alone are not enough

In the face of tumultuous economic times and instability on Wall Street, accusations of poor leadership and management within organizations and weak oversight by boards of directors, regulators, and external service providers are leading to a dramatic increase in internal inquiries and investigations. And the potential for complex litigation and business disputes is not far behind. Exposure to risk and crisis is inevitable and no organization is in the clear. When facing a legal dispute—whether around a financial misstatement or allegation of fraud—success is predicated upon an aggressive, timely response that minimizes your organization's business disruption and financial loss while maximizing the trust that key stakeholders have in the results and findings.

MorganFranklin's proven ability to execute time-sensitive, high-risk, and high-reward initiatives has earned the company accolades as a get-it-done partner. We deliver affordable and sustainable solutions to your complex challenges while using a multi-lens approach. Good accountants alone are not enough. Addressing complex technical accounting issues during litigation also requires information technology and data analytics expertise to uncover crucial information, hidden trends, and key insights.

MorganFranklin combines deep technical accounting, data extraction, and information technology expertise to deliver comprehensive solutions that efficiently address your high-stakes legal challenges. We have the ability to investigate past the surface of your issue and dig into your systems to extract and analyze the root cause of your problem. Our experienced teams will leave you confident that not only do we understand the issue, but we have the systems and analytical savvy to help you come up with an approach that will yield results and minimize the impact to your ongoing day-to-day operations.

When facing a legal dispute, you want experienced advisors by your side. For a decade, MorganFranklin has served numerous clients in addressing their high-stakes crisis management challenges. Rest assured that failure to thrive in crisis situations is not an option for our advisors.

EXAMPLES OF LITIGATION SUPPORT CAPABILITIES

- Investigative accounting
- Business/Employee fraud investigations
- Pending litigation accounting assistance
- Pro forma litigation impact on financial reporting and disclosure
- Business interruption challenges

EXAMPLES OF LOSS MANAGEMENT SUPPORT CAPABILITIES

- Audit coordination
- Technical accounting position white papers
- Adjustment recommendations for historical transactions and balances
- Document and records management
- Preparation of audit support materials
- Project management and quality control

We know the high-stakes implications of our work:

- Minimize financial loss
- Resolve data-related vulnerabilities
- Prevent loss of reputation
- Minimize business disruptions
- Protect enterprise value

CHOOSE MORGANFRANKLIN

We have an impressive track record in technical accounting and a proven ability to execute time-sensitive initiatives for CFOs, general counsel, and special committees of your Board of Directors. Local to the D.C. area, we bring Big 4 and private industry experience that includes technical excellence from CPA, CIA, CISA, MBA, and PMP certifications, to name a few. Our managers and higher-level staff possess an average of 20 years of professional experience, as well as a deep knowledge of all SEC hot topics, strong data extraction skills, and the ability to thrive in tactical environments. And with deep roots in public accounting, we work extremely well with external auditors, counsel, and advisors to get you back on track.

Visit www.morganfranklin.com for more information about our capabilities.